

Keyed alike breakaway shackle padlocks restrict access to property and have a shackle that can be broken with a hammer blow in an emergency. They're used in applications where the lock may need to be removed rapidly, such as on fire extinguishers and hoses and sprinkler shutoff valves. These padlocks are keyed alike, so users can use the same key for different locks in a set.

Specs
Breakaway shackle - keyed alike

System No.		Location		Spec Section		Paragraph
Submitted By		Date		Approved		Date	